MAKING WAVES IN 2016

"Leadership is about influencing others, and resilience is about influencing oneself." - Tim Elmore

TRAILBLAZING IN 2021

DANA BURNETT

@TakingChildLifetoSchool on Instagram

Worked for a region and was in 11 school buildings every week.

Main focus originally in 2020 was dealing with COVID and the trauma this created, but expanded to going to 2-3 schools each day and spending 1:1 time with a student that was referred to her for

- grief/bereavement
- upcoming medical procedures
- new diagnoses
- chronic conditions

DISCOURAGING EMAILS

"After speaking with our principal and HS counselor, we've determined that the position really needs to be a social worker/counselor position. Though the program you discussed sounds great, it's not what we'll need at this time at the school."

"Thank you for your email. At this time we are currently looking for a School Social Worker with a MSW."

"Hello, the Certified Child Life Specialist role is not something I foresee adding to our school district at this time."

"Thank you for your interest but we have social workers within our system who work with our kids."

"In school setting, having the certification required by the Michigan Department of Education is something highly valued. Going outside of that is not something I am willing to do."

"Dear Jessica,

Thank you for reaching out regarding our opening [for social worker]. As we begin working on this position- which may include rewriting the job description to fit our needs- I have a few questions for you...

We are indeed looking to alter the job description a bit to

- a) fill the various holes/needs we have and
- b) revise a bit to benefit the strengths (and certification/licensing) of our new teammate.

You have certain strengths that pop out to us on paper and we would love to meet you."

REMEMBERING HER LEGACY

10+ child life specialists working in schools received anywhere from $50-$200

IN THE SCHOOL...

Motivating suicidal students not to self harm at school (sticker chart)

Students creating art for hospital room as encouragement before a big surgery

Empowering students to cope through their anxiety by making sensory bottles

Students making cootie catchers to better learn coping techniques and engage socially with peers
